

Scavenger hunt

Cats love to hunt, so get everyone to channel their inner feline and have them seek out items that match the descriptions below.

1. Something soft
2. Something fluffy
3. Something pointy
4. Something black
5. Something you love
6. Something pretty
7. Something that makes a noise
8. Something patterned
9. Something reflective or shiny
10. Something warm
11. Something you can play with
12. Something beginning with C
13. Something beginning with A
14. Something beginning with T

If you think it might be tricky for your mini-mousers to find all of the above, why not print off some of these mice and hide them around your home or classroom? Get everyone to collect as many as they can.

Did you know that cats don't hunt because they are hungry? Many cats with ample food will still want to hunt as it keeps them mentally stimulated and releases feel-good hormones called endorphins.
